Lakeside Café given $500

Community Presbyterian Church received $1,000 from the Presbytery to be given to the community to help them during this difficult time because of the shutdown of the economy. The Presbytery gave $1,000 to every church in the Cascade Conference for this purpose. The Lakeside Café was selected by the Community Presbyterian Church to receive $500. Another $500 will be given away to another needy person in the near future.

A New Idea

The Warming Center, operated by volunteers of the Community Presbyterian Church, has over $6,000 in the bank. We have purchased 4 triple bunkbeds and one bunkbed. Received blankets, sheets, pillows, pillowcases, food for the homeless, we have made over 400 meals and passed them out to our local homeless. We have made breakfasts, given away clothes, sleeping bags, given them a place to sleep when the temp. is 32 degrees or less, etc. for 2 years now.

None of the above has solved the homeless problem. I thought by remodeling the church and making it a place for them to stay was the answer. I understand that is something the church does not want to do at this time.

I have placed notes about the homeless on Facebook and how we can help them. Facebook closed down my notes because they were controversial and people were upset with giving aid to the homeless or drunks and hop heads as the community calls them. Second the church family felt they would only help with the Warming Center and not for the homeless to sleep indefinitely in the church and not to remodel it.

So Now what? An idea came to me the other night. What would happen if we changed from giving to the local homeless and change it to helping them to help themselves? The following is a new idea:

Start a new business called “Lakeside Warming Center Landscaping.”

It will be maned and run by our local homeless. Instead of a hand out, as we are doing now, it will be a hand up. They would mow, edge, clean, wash windows or anything people needed done. They would earn a place to rent and stay in. I am working with the insurance company, an attorney and accountant to see if this is possible. I will keep you informed on my progress.

Peace, Jim Ives
